Due to the challenges related to this historical world health event and national emergency; it will be necessary for our teams to adapt how we support our students. As we ensure the safety and well-being of students our leaders at the local, state, and federal level as well as PWCS school leaders, recognize that services on IEPs, 504 plans, gifted education plans, and required EL services will not be met in the same way they would if schools were open. Our team members will continue to work to find alternative methods and positive proactive strategies to continue engagement in learning for our English learner, special education, dually identified, and twice exceptional students. While every support given to students in a face-to-face setting may not be possible, it remains our intention and expectation to make a good faith effort to provide every virtual/distance learning support possible to our students during this unprecedented time.
